

Ninety of Clearfield County's Finest Left On 1:15 Train For Camp Lee Amid Cheers of Thousands of Well Wishers

Throngs of Relatives Augmented by County Fair Crowd Join in Hearty Send Off For Citizen Soldiers

WINBURNE BAND THE ESCORT

The people of Clearfield and the surrounding territory which makes up District No. 1 united today in doing honor to the young men of the community who were summoned from the mine, the field, the workshop and the office by their government to march forth in defense of the honor of their country and flag and to assist to the fullest measure of their virile young manhood to make the world safe for democracy.

The occasion was the sending forth of 90 men, the second contingent and forty per cent of the quota of 231 to be supplied from the territory embraced in District No. 1, as marked out by the Adjutant General's office at Harrisburg.

The men were summoned to report to Exemption Board headquarters yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and with the exception of three or four all answered to their names and were properly listed for service by Messrs. Elvart and Sommerville, who with Chief Clerk Bain made up the board, Mr. Dyer being unavoidably absent.

After the men were properly signed up they were released on furlough and given the freedom of the town those living within easy reach being allowed to spend the night at home, while those from a distance were entertained at the different hotels as guests of the government.

This morning the soldiers visited the Y. M. C. A., where they were extended the privileges of the building and provided with ribbon badges. At 11 o'clock the Exemption Board arrived and after calling the roll and lining the men up they were marched to the Dimeling where dinner was served at government expense.

The ladies of the local Chapter Red Cross and other organizations prepared appetizing lunches at the Y. M. C. A. and these together with the comfort kits, supplied were taken to the headquarters of the board where the men called after dinner and secured them previous to the opening of the program of exercises incident to the farewell.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the men formed in columns of four at headquarters and marched to the Court House square where they were grouped about the speakers' platform and where the exercises were scheduled to take place.

The Winburne band, which very generously and patriotically contributed their valuable services for the occasion were given the place of honor and headed the line of march.

The honor escort to the soldiers was made up of the borough officials of Clearfield, Curwensville and Wallacetown boroughs and the parade was in charge of J. Fred Weaver, Chief Marshal and his aides.

The speakers' platform was occupied by the Exemption board, the members of the Clearfield County Commission Public Safety. Hon. Peter Gearhart of the District board, R. D. Swoope, Esq., Rev. Reeve and the quartette which was composed of H. J. Brown, Joseph Heckendorn, Joseph E. Phillips and H. F. Ferguson. A. H. Woodward, Esq., presided and called upon Dr. Reeve to deliver the invocation.

Hon. Peter Gearhart, a member of the District Board was the first speaker and he opened his remarks by paying a compliment to the Exemption Board for District No. 1 for the excellent manner in which they had conducted their work in this division.

R. D. Swoope, Esq., of Curwensville, followed and roused the huge audience to outbursts of applause by his patriotic utterances.

Mr. Woodward closed the speech-making in a few words of commendation for the men who made up the contingent, followed by a lucid explanation in few words as to the reason for their going to war and a typical optimistically American view of the outcome.

John M. Bain then read the instruc-

BE PROUD OF THEM!

"Stand up, Clearfield County, and watch your men go to war.

"Be proud of them, mothers that bore them, wives that bade them go, fathers that are glad.

"Cheer them, you men whose turn is to come, as they would cheer you.

"Envy them, with the hate that only cowards know, ye slackers and skulkers who hide behind the banner of pacifism.

"Look at them from behind your shutters, ye hyphenates. Many of them the sons of immigrants, they have but one country in their heart today. They are what you might have been.

"Sun, touch them lightly. West wind, carry across the sea the sound of their tramping. Babylon shall hear."

tions to the men stating that Clayton Cuper Shaw of Clearfield, had been selected by the board to have charge of the men as Chief Marshal until they arrived at Camp Lee.

On account of the large number of assistants were named also. They were George E. McGonigal, of Pottersdale; Marion Hess, of Curwensville; Carmello Pellerite, of Woodland, and Andrew of Winburne. Pellerite will have charge of the Italians and will look after the men of Slavish nationality.

The choir then sang America, concluding with the following:

God save our splendid men,
Send them safe home again,
God save our men.

Make them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous,
They are so dear to us,
God save our men.

The parade to the station was then made up with a detachment of the State constabulary on horse back at the head. The Winburne band followed. Then came the borough officials, council of public safety, exemption board, the "Soldiers of Liberty" the Clearfield Military company and citizens generally.

The boys band from the West Side were also present in the parade and were free to offer their services in the good cause.

When the station was reached the soldier boys were marched right onto the train and after roll call the windows were thrown open, good byes were said and soon our boys were off to assist in the making of history.

It was a husky, determined bunch of young men who faced the uncertainties of the future with a strong heart. They knew where they were going, what was expected of them and were anxious and willing to make any sacrifice required of them as soldiers of this grand and glorious free republic.

There was an immense crowd present, every town and hamlet in the district being represented.

BIG CROWD-OUT FOR OPENING OF FAIR

Fireworks Which Will Be A Feature Every Night Was The Best Ever Witnessed In Clearfield

TWO AIR FLIGHTS TOMORROW

The Second Annual Clearfield County Fair threw open its gates to a large crowd last evening at 7:30 immediately after the Fair had been officially declared open and the Italian Band of Clearfield had led a large crowd to the grounds. The dazzling sight which met the eyes of the visitors was a surprise to all of them. The Main Exhibition Hall, while still lacking some finishing touches, was a concrete example of the fact that the Fair association means business and intends as the years roll around to make the Clearfield Driving park a great place.

Nearly all the exhibits were in place and beautifully arranged. The right hand side of the hall as you enter is entirely given over to fancy work, Red Cross work, handwork of women and everything dear to the hearts of the ladies while the left hand side is of general interest to men and ladies alike. On entering you are confronted with the information and News bureau and the historical and Relic exhibit which are being run jointly under The Progress management with three attendants in charge. Three of the most interesting things to be seen here are as follows: A Boston newspaper printed in March 1770, An Indian corn grinding mill, the property of George M. Bilger and a wonderful collection of minerals. Hundreds of other articles of equal interest. Arranged on the same side as State Forestry exhibits one from the state Flymologist and others too numerous to mention.

Two bands were in attendance the Italian band and the Boys Band of Clearfield and the music both rendered was enjoyed very much. The address by A. G. Neary of Philadelphia, in the main hall was heartily applauded by a large audience while every eye was later focused on the wonderful display of fireworks which will be a feature every evening this week always with a changing program. See tonight's and tomorrow's program on the back page of this issue.

WE'RE GOING UP IN THE AIR TOMORROW

The Progress is going to get out at noon tomorrow or bust a gallus. We want to go to the fair because a representative of this paper is going to accompany Prof. Williams in his trip into the clouds during the afternoon. We hate to take the chance now that men are so scarce in Clearfield, but must go purely in the interest of science.

THE PUBLICIST WAS HERE

Charles J. Bangert, the DuBois publicity man, who is engaged these days in throwing word poses at old John Barleycorn as that erstwhile arrogant old "aws" goes slowly down for the count before the battering ram blows of an outraged public sentiment, was in town today assisting in the send off to the soldiers.

VISITING NEWSPAPER MEN

W. B. Ross, L. F. Mohny and Arthur B. Litz, deserted the DuBois Courier office long enough today to whirl across the mountain and participate in the send-off to the soldier boys today. They patriotically lined up for the march to the station.

WILL DISCUSS SWISS FOOD SITUATION

Geneva, Sept. 19.—American minister Stovall has been summoned to Washington at President Wilson's request to discuss the Swiss food situation according to word received here today. Stovall has already left Switzerland.

John W. Howe, the Morrisdale merchant, was a participant in the demonstration to the soldier boys.

Local Draft Deserter Found In Pittsburg

Will be Returned to Clearfield Tonight Other Not Found.

Lewis Frank Boron, of Winburne, and Val Pavilek of Curwensville, are both listed as deserters following their failure to appear when called for service. They both are of Slavish descent.

Boron deliberately deserted, his being a real case of cold feet. He beat it away from Winburne against the counsel of his father and friends. He was rounded up at Pittsburgh and under arrest is on his way back to Clearfield where he will be landed in Fort McCloskey tonight.

We are not posted as to what the penalty will be in his case but in any event he will be kept in jail until October 3rd when the next contingent will be sent out. He may then be given another opportunity to go to Camp Lee, and after he gets there they will very quickly make up his mind for him.

In the case of Pavilek not so much is known. He disappeared from Curwensville some time ago and is thought to have gone to Pittsburgh and the police there are making a search for him.

Pope Will Not Renew His Peace Proposals

Believes War Will Last for at Least Two More Years

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 19.—Pope Benedict has made his last peace offer according to official cables received here today. The Holy See believes the war must go on for two or three more years longer—until the force of America's vash power is felt and when either a victory is achieved or a hopeless deadlock is reached. The United Press learned from the highest authority that the Vatican believes that no peace negotiations are possible now. It believes that peace is only possible when Germany is rid of its present ruler.

Germany, according to those intimate with the international affairs is expected to make a peace move this winter. Diplomats here believe that Germany will make a peace move to end the war before 1918.

REPORT OF SUB SUNK

London, Sept. 19.—An American armed steamer probably sunk a German submarine in spirited fighting southeast of the Shetland Islands according to a Central News dispatch today. The American vessel encountered a submarine and fired two shots smashing the periscope of the U-boat. At this juncture another submarine appeared and fired three shots at the American steamer but missed. A British destroyer hearing the shots and receiving wireless calls for help went to the rescue and arrived in time to sink the submarine.

STATE AGRICULTURAL NOTES

An unusually large acreage in broom corn has been planted this season and many farmers and individuals will endeavor to cut the cost of their brooms.

One of the largest chestnut crops in years is reported from various sections of the state.

The honey crop is decidedly below the average and beekeepers fear that there will be hardly more than enough to carry the bees through the winter without much extra feeding.

The State Livestock Sanitary board is engaged in making sanitary surveys of milk supplies in several boroughs in the northwestern part of the state.

Fines of $250 and costs were imposed against Uniontown meat dealers charged with having in their possession and selling large quantities of unwholesome meats.

The United States government will assist the Pennsylvania department of agriculture in preventing the sale and shipment of fake canning compounds, egg substitutes and other articles banned by the pure food laws of the state.

Don't buy any nursery stock unless the agent representing the nursery shows a Pennsylvania license issued by the department of agriculture at Harrisburg.

The 1916 peach crop exceeded the 1915 crop by about 400,000 bushels.

FOREST EXHIBIT AT COUNTY FAIR IS WONDERFUL

A Good Hour Of Entertainment Can Be Had By Anyone Interested In Woodcraft And Reforestation

SHOWS WANTON DESTRUCTION

One of the most intensely interesting exhibits at the Clearfield County Fair and the one which everyone ought to visit is that of the Pennsylvania State Forestry department in charge of Messrs. Foresters McNaughton and McNaughton. Representatives of the Forestry department are in charge at all times ready and willing to answer all questions.

The exhibit contains a large number of wood specimens taken from trees which are native of Pennsylvania, many of them taken from trees on the Pennsylvania State Forests. Each specimen contains a printed card bearing the botanical name of the tree. A large case containing many interesting photographs taken in or near state forests is also conveniently at hand, the cases being numbered from 1 to 5, the pictures being arranged in series, showing first the virgin stands of huge pines, hemlocks and hardwoods, the forests which made Pennsylvania at one time the first timber producing state of the union. Then follows scenes showing the inroads and ravages made by the lumbermen, and after that the forest fire with its destruction and desolation. This feature should be most interesting to the younger generation who know of such timber lands by hearsay.

The exhibit tells the whole story from the virgin forest through to the most total destruction of our timber supply, or until the department of forestry was finally created and J. T. Rothrock, that faithful pioneer in the work was chosen as commissioner and started in to reforest the denuded areas. During the past four years $195,000 has been appropriated to carry on the work of protection and reforestation and it is really surprising the amount of good accomplished by this meagre and inadequate sum. Today the state owns 1,012,098 acres of forest land. The leaf mounts are decidedly interesting, while the tools used by the state forester are also on display. The seeds of Pennsylvania native trees are also shown in glass jars ranged along the wall of the booth. From seeds like those shown the department is raising and planting this year 6,000,000 trees.

Illuminated lantern slides, showing many scenes throughout the forests attract a great deal of attention and are both interesting and instructive carrying as they do the department's ever present lesson against carelessness and fires.

Large maps of Pennsylvania and the state forests are also present, together with a sketch showing the relation of the damage done by forest fires to the amount appropriated for extinction and prevention of fires.

The work of the tree nursery is shown by specimens taken from Mr. Dague's operation on the mountains near the State house, north of town. There is shown the sturdy pine in process of growth from the seedling through the different stages of development each year up to four or five thousand seedling trees will be given away during the week to those desiring same for planting.

Everybody who visits the fair should make it a point to look at the forestry exhibit over, you will be repaid for your trouble.

SLACKER AMERICANS

This is the one day of all days when Americans are slackers. The casting of a ballot is not only a privilege alone but a duty as well. The government of this United States is in the hands of the people. We often hear reformers say that we are ruled by the minority and oppressed by a few. True, in a sense, but you and I and every other individual voter are ourselves to blame for this state of affairs where it really does exist. With sufficient there is absolutely no way for the minority to rule unless the majority wills it so.

It is not surprising that schemers and evil doers enter politics when it is an assured fact that not more than 10 per cent of the electorate exercise their right to vote. Present conditions offer a fertile field for the political demagogue which he is quick to take advantage of. Men of crooked tendencies always work on unsuspecting people and apparently there is no one so unsuspecting as the American voter. Ofttimes he never thinks over who he will vote for until he enters the booth at the polls and those who have had experience on election boards will testify to the fact that many men vote in much the same manner as they would draw a chance ticket or their neighbor's wife's fancy crazy quilt. It is common to find tickets marked with only one cross and that on some insignificant office. Another common practice is to vote for the first name on each office. Then there are the spoiled ballots. Many do not understand the marking of a ballot.

Is there not some way to correct these defects? As far as the indifference goes, that can be corrected only by a higher citizenship, a greater interest in ourselves and our government but would it not be wise to make election a part of the public school curriculum? It is being done by some school officials and we believe it would be a good plan to extend it to every school in the country. Young Americans should know how to use the ballot which is put into their hands to shape our national destiny.

DUMDUMS

With the right kind of weather tomorrow Clearfield will not be able to take care of her visitors.

Every man leaving today knows that old Clearfield County will back him to the last ditch.

If the Goldline man was here today he could sell about a hundred bottles to about 'steen candidates tonight.

A County Fair without horse racing is like a sandwich without the ham to a great many people. Perhaps in another year the ham may be cheaper.

When we were kids we lived in a sleepy age. Never did we have a County Fair, an Election Day and one hundred soldiers leaving town all on the same day.

There is another issue of Liberty Bonds coming soon. There is where you can back up the soldiers who go today. You buy the bonds. Uncle Sam uses the money to feed and clothe his men.

Building of Sixteen Big Cities
Put Up To One Man; He Did It

By George Martin

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 19.—Suppose Uncle Sam stepped up to you on the street today and said:

"Look here, son: I want you to build sixteen cities. Put them in various parts of the country. Plan each one for a population of 40,000 men. Have heating, lighting, water, ventilation and sewerage systems perfect in all of them. Finish them in three months. That's your job, now go to it."

Would you know where to begin? Would it excite you at all to realize that every mistake you made meant perhaps fatal delay in the training of your country's armies for the war?

That proposition was put up to one man by Uncle Sam. He and his colleagues shouldered the burden and did the job.

The man was Major W. A. Starrett, before the war an architect, now Chairman on Emergency Construction and Contracts of the Council of National Defense.

No such task had ever been undertaken on a nation-wide scale in that space of time.

"When this thing was first contemplated," Major Starrett told the United Press today, "the government provided a couple of army officers and stenographers to do the job."

Word had gone out that the work was going on and every contractor in the country was here. As a result, all those men did was to stand in front of the desk and shake hands all day.

"We told the Munitions Board these people would have to be taken out and that the contentment men would have to be let alone."

"Accordingly, the next morning the men were brought to the Munsey Building, with their records. We immediately saw the need for the finest men we could get, so we reached into the big engineering organizations all over the country by wire and telephone."

"We asked them to send big men. We got big men. I could name you a list of twenty-five men we got who were worth $15,000 to $25,000 a year. We said to these concerns: 'You will have to give these people up, we face an emergency. They patriotically gave them up.'"

"Then and there, over about two days and nights solid conference work with all these people we built a great organization under Colonel Little of the War Department."

"Inside of four days we had the organization in skeleton. Everything was worked out with the object of speed and economy."

"That machine constitutes about 250 people occupying a whole building and working anywhere from 12 to 18 hours a day."

"We looked around to see what the Government had in the way of a register of contractors. It did not have anything for us.

"We asked the American Institute of Architects, the chief engineers of all the railroads and big industrial establishments, what reliable people they were dealing with. In ten days we had 1,800 replies, giving us a list of about 1000 contracting firms."

"We put the list in charge of Mr. Gibbon of the Chicago Fidelity and Guaranty Co. He determined that contracts throughout the country were doing $5,000,000 a year business. There were about 100. These we separated and cross-referenced them geographically. This gave us sixty or seventy concerns based on their proximity to the sixteen military divisions of the country."

"We considered our preferred contractors by these geographical groups."

"We got what the architects and engineers said about each man, and what each man said about himself and what others said about him. Thus when we came to the selection we had the available, competent firms and their respective records before us."

"The applicants really selected themselves."

"Secretary Baker sent us a communication saying all things being equal to pick the contractors from the locality in which the camp was to be located. That was common sense. We were in position to do what he suggested."

"You feel then," it was asked "that everything humanly possible was done to safeguard the interest of both the government and the public in the selection of these contractors?"

"Yes I do," said Major Starrett. It is just like any other emergency work. You have to know as many facts as you can and be as just as you can, but you have to move and do something."

BANKERS TO HEAR PROMINENT MEN

White Sulphur Spring, Va., Sept. 19.—Many financiers and business men of prominence are arriving at this resort to attend the annual meeting of the West Virginia Bankers Association, the sessions of which will begin tomorrow and continue over Friday. The meeting this year will be notable for the number of prominent speakers on the program. Among these who have accepted invitations to address the gathering are Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, Governor John J. Cornwell and Herbert Quick, of the Federal Farm Loan Board.

HORSE SHOW AT WHITE PLAINS

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Because of the prominence of many of the exhibitors and the large field of show and race horses entered, more than usual interest has been aroused in the 24th annual Westchester County Horse Show, which opened here today. The judging of exhibits and award of prizes began this afternoon and will be continued until the close of the exhibition on Saturday.

Expert Blames the Week-End Automobile Outings

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18.—Bible schools in the Allegheny County Sabbath school association, when W. G. READY FOR RESERVE MILITIA

Governor Has Adjutant General Prepared to Organize it

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Governor Brumbaugh announced today at conclusion of a conference with Colonel F. A. Beary, acting adjutant general, that in a short time a statement would be issued regarding the formation of the Pennsylvania reserve militia.

"I have gone over the whole matter with Colonel Beary, who has been handling the preliminary details, and statement regarding location and other matters in connection with the various units will be issued before long," said the governor.

"Under the act there will be three regiments of reserve militia and one squadron of cavalry. The preference will be given to localities where the state owns armories. Steps to provide equipment are now under way."

WANT WHEAT PUT HIGHER

Producers Declare Price Does Not Yield Fair Profit

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—With the bakers contending the price of wheat is too high to permit the sale of standard-size loaves at a lower price, some wheat producers are vigorously declaring that the average price of $2.20 per bushel fixed in the recent executive order is too low to give the producer a fair profit.

Meanwhile G. E. Call, professor of agronomy in the state college of agriculture of Kansas, recognized as one of the best experts on wheat in the entire country, estimates that, on the average, the American farmer who grows wheat is receiving $1.21 per net bushel with the market price fixed at $2. With the price fixed at $2.20 per bushel, the average net profit on this basis would be $1.41 per bushel.

Frankford Arsenal Heads Say Danger Has Been Minimized

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Frankford Arsenal was just preparing to manufacture cartridges according to a new formula, which eliminates serious defects in shells, when the explosion destroying a portion of the plant occurred early this month. Major Alton S. Cushman, chemist at the arsenal, informed the Military Affairs committee today. He said this was the result of recommendations to the war department, following the reports of misfires of shells. Major Cushman went to the Frankford Arsenal in June, soon after reports of defects were received. He declared prospects for accurate shells in the future are good because of an order completely changing the formula.

Senator Warner, who lives at Weatherly, made this announcement today before the departure of the boys for Camp Meade tomorrow.

BIGGEST WAR BILL IN HISTORY

Washington, Sept. 18.—Without a dissenting vote the house passed the $7,000,000,000 war appropriation bill today, the largest measure of its kind in history.

The bill carries provision for the pay and subsistence of 1,000,000 men under arms until June 30, 1918, and provides enormous sums for heavy and light artillery, as well as many hundreds of millions for the rapid increase of the destroyer fleet.

Local Horse Wins Best Race At Carrolltown Exhibition

"Peter the Great," W. G. Kelley's, made him an antagonist to be both handsome young bay trotting horse, feared and respected by all who won the 230 trot at the Carrolltown fair Thursday of last week. The horse was driven to victory by his owner.

W. G. Kelley is one of the best known and most expert horsemen in this section of the state. He has been in the game and highly successful at it so long that the mind of man hereabouts runneth not to the contrary.

Away back in our "saddled days," about the time the Clearfield Driving Park was breaking into history and Major D. W. Eitzweiler was the energetic Secretary of the Association, W. G. Kelley as old then as he is now, was on hand at every fair or race meet with what the other fellow termed a "skate" or two, and always appeared to land in the money when the heat was ended. He was then as now, with the keen, unerring eye of the real horseman of the old school, he knew his horse and always had "the goods." His judgement as to a horse was equalled by his skill and expertness as a driver, which combined with his absolute fearlessness when enthroned on his seat in the sulky and scoring up for the starter's word, when the race ends.

Mr. Kelley deserves to rank with that other and more widely advertised veteran of the reins, old "Pop" Geers, who like Kelley is still driving winners on the big rings. Both have arrived at the time of life where the four score milestone on life's home stretch is dangerously near, but advancing years makes no difference, they are still showing the way to the younger fellows and will continue to do so until the summons for the finale.

Then with the concluding straight-away before them and old Peter at the finish ready to pick the winner, it is guess that Clearfield's venerable horseman will be "in the money" when the race ends.

Bobby Roth of the Cleveland Indians is going right after the major leagues' base stealing honors with the speed lever wide open.

Cruits, of the Cardinals, and Kauff, the Giants' gardener, have slowed up in the race for the National league bating championship.

It begins to look as if the early prediction that the Mackmen wouldn't finish in the cellar has turned out to be a fliv.

The Washington Senators boast of having put a crimp in the Red Sox pennant hopes, and declare they will do the same to the White Sox. But will they?

Recent averages show that of the eight 300 hitters in the National league three are members of the Cardinals—Hornesby, Cruise and J. Smith.

The Western teams are the big works in the American league this season. Grabbing three of the four positions in the first division indicates that the Westerners have the goods.

"Rob" Russell of the White Sox and "Slim" Sallee of the Giants, the leading pitchers of irrespective leagues, are being picked by the wise ones to face each other in one of the world's series thrillers.

There is quite an array of promising bush talent to be disposed of at the big league draft meeting in Cincinnati this week, notwithstanding that the most of the minor leagues have had a tough year.

Fred Mitchell's Cubs have their eye on the Reds and will battle on to the finish to land Chicago among the first four National league teams.

"Big Ed" Walsh keeps plugging away in an endeavor to "make" the "Braves" pitching staff. It's a tough game trying to come back with an outfit very much frayed at the edges.

Eddie Collins is the only member of the White Sox who has participated in a world's series. As a pastime with the Athletics, the star second sacker took part in four of the big doings.

Although Smith appears to be doing well in the Giants' infield, the McGraws will have to travel some to tap the world's series without the services of Herzog.

Injuries to Pat Moran's pastimers put the Phillies on the hummer. No fewer than six Quaker regulars have been on the hospital list at one time.

Pennant races in the American association, the Southern league and the International League were the real thing in championship battles this year. All three circuits staged pennant scrambles that had the majors faded in the way of tight finishes.

JUMP FROM BED IN MORNING AND DRINK HOT WATER

Open sluices of system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter, says authority.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank each morning before breakfast, keeps us looking and feeling fit.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins: thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have shallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost but little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Bigger Primary Vote Out in State Than Was Expected: No Interest

Harrisburg, Sept. 19.—Unofficial reports today from various sections of the state indicate a quite heavy primary vote in almost all districts. Even in counties where a judicial candidate is unopposed, a fairly good vote is being polled as a result of efforts of friends of such candidates to insure a "fifty-one per cent. nomination."

Pittsburgh, with a tremendous registration, "probably is polling the heaviest proportionate vote of any district in the state."

In all likelihood, seven districts will still present judgeships of common pleas courts today, making the November election a mere formality; one district an additional law judgeship; one a president judgeship of the orphans' court, and two counties balloting for associate judges in the same way.

The newly-created third class city of Bethlehem is nominating its first set of candidates for municipal offices today.

Candidates for president judge of common pleas who have no opposition on today's ballot are Robert McCormick, Cameron-Clinton-Elk district; William Butler, Chester; Aaron S. Swartz, Montgomery and John Add Mellvaine, Washington. All but McCormick will succeed Harry Alvan Hall. S. J. M. McCarrell, additional law judge of Dauphin county, is without opposition. So is associate Judge Harry R. Hyde, Elk.

These candidates are not necessarily certain of no opposition in November until today's ballots are counted. To become the sole nominee a non-partisan candidate first must have more than half the votes cast for that office; this easy where there are not more than two candidates. Second he must have more than half of the total number of votes cast for any single office in the entire district. An unopposed candidate for judge might, altho it is not likely, poll less than half the votes cast for all candidates for district attorney; if this were the case and some men were nominated for judge merely by one voter writing his name on the ballot both would be candidates in November. The primaries, however, probably will settle each case where there are not more than two candidates—and perhaps somewhere there are more than two.

Districts where two men seek one nomination for president judge of common pleas are: Charles C. Evans, incumbent, and John G. Harman, Columbia-Montour; James R. Cray and John Q. Van Swearingen, incumbent, Fayette; F. Amedee Bregy, incumbent, and Walter M. Chew, Philadelphia No. 1. In Fayette county Horatio S. Dumbauld and James Clark Work, incumbent, are both after the orphans' court president judgeship. Two counties have two-man contests for one associate judgeship: Forest, with Lyman Cook and George Zuen-del, incumbent, and Pike, with G. E. Swartwood, incumbent and John A. Eckweiler.

Schuylkill county has one of the hottest judicial fights in the state. Four men are after two law judgeships. This will make it necessary to strike averages to find if any one or two have a "fifty-one per cent. nomination." The candidates are President Judge H. O. Bechtel, Judge Charles E. Berger, appointed by the governor; ex-assemblyman John Robert Jones and James J. Bell.

Polls close thruout the state at 7 o'clock tonight.

WINBURNE BAND THE ESCORT

The people of Clearfield and the surrounding territory which makes up District No. 1 united today in doing honor to the young men of the community who were summoned from the mine, the field, the workshop and the office by their government to march forth in defense of the honor of their country and flag and to assist to the fullest measure of their virile young manhood to make the world safe for democracy.

The occasion was the sending forth of 90 men, the second contingent and forty per cent of the quota of 231 to be supplied from the territory embraced in District No. 1, as marked out by the Adjutant General's office at Harrisburg.

The men were summoned to report to Exemption Board headquarters yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and with the exception of three or four all answered to their names and were properly listed for service by Messrs. Elvart and Sommerville, who with Chief Clerk Bain made up the board, Mr. Dyer being unavoidably absent.

After the men were properly signed up they were released on furlough and given the freedom of the town those living within easy reach being allowed to spend the night at home, while those from a distance were entertained at the different hotels as guests of the government.

This morning the soldiers visited the Y. M. C. A., where they were extended the privileges of the building and provided with ribbon badges. At 11 o'clock the Exemption Board arrived and after calling the roll and lining the men up they were marched to the Dimeling where dinner was served at government expense.

The ladies of the local Chapter Red Cross and other organizations prepared appetizing lunches at the Y. M. C. A. and these together with the comfort kits, supplied were taken to the headquarters of the board where the men called after dinner and secured them previous to the opening of the program of exercises incident to the farewell.

Shortly after 12 o'clock the men formed in columns of four at headquarters and marched to the Court House square where they were grouped about the speakers' platform and where the exercises were scheduled to take place.

The Winburne band, which very generously and patriotically contributed their valuable services for the occasion were given the place of honor and headed the line of march.

The honor escort to the soldiers was made up of the borough officials of Clearfield, Curwensville and Wallacetown boroughs and the parade was in charge of J. Fred Weaver, Chief Marshal and his aides.

The speakers' platform was occupied by the Exemption board, the members of the Clearfield County Commission Public Safety. Hon. Peter Gearhart of the District board, R. D. Swoope, Esq., Rev. Reeve and the quartette which was composed of H. J. Brown, Joseph Heckendorn, Joseph E. Phillips and H. F. Ferguson. A. H. Woodward, Esq., presided and called upon Dr. Reeve to deliver the invocation.

Hon. Peter Gearhart, a member of the District Board was the first speaker and he opened his remarks by paying a compliment to the Exemption Board for District No. 1 for the excellent manner in which they had conducted their work.

R. D. Swoope, Esq., of Curwensville, followed and roused the huge audience to outbursts of applause by his patriotic utterances.

Mr. Woodward closed the speech-making in a few words of commendation for the men who made up the contingent, followed by a lucid explanation in few words as to the reason for their going to war and a typical optimistically American view of the outcome.

John M. Bain then read the instructions

BE PROUD OF THEM!

"Stand up, Clearfield County, and watch your men go to war.

"Be proud of them, mothers that bore them, wives that bade them go, fathers that are glad.

"Cheer them, you men whose turn is to come, as they would cheer you.

"Envy them, with the hate that only cowards know, ye slackers and skulkers who hide behind the banner of pacifism.

"Look at them from behind your shutters, ye hyphenates. Many of them the sons of immigrants, they have but one country in their heart today. They are what you might have been.

"Sun, touch them lightly. West wind, carry across the sea the sound of their tramping. Babylon shall hear."

tions to the men stating that Clayton Cuper Shaw of Clearfield, had been selected by the board to have charge of the men as Chief Marshal until they arrived at Camp Lee.

On account of the large number of assistants were named also. They were George E. McGonigal, of Pottersdale; Marion Hess, of Curwensville; Carmello Pellerite, of Woodland, and Andrew of Winburne. Pellerite will have charge of the Italians and will look after the men of Slavish nationality.

The choir then sang America, concluding with the following:

God save our splendid men,
Send them safe home again,
God save our men.

Make them victorious,
Patient and chivalrous,
They are so dear to us,
God save our men.

The parade to the station was then made up with a detachment of the State constabulary on horse back at the head. The Winburne band followed. Then came the borough officials, council of public safety, exemption board, the "Soldiers of Liberty" the Clearfield Military company and citizens generally.

The boys band from the West Side were also present in the parade and were free to offer their services in the good cause.

When the station was reached the soldier boys were marched right onto the train and after roll call the windows were thrown open, good byes were said and soon our boys were off to assist in the making of history.

It was a husky, determined bunch of young men who faced the uncertainties of the future with a strong heart. They knew where they were going, what was expected of them and were anxious and willing to make any sacrifice required of them as soldiers of this grand and glorious free republic.

There was an immense crowd present, every town and hamlet in the district being represented.

BIG CROWD OUT FOR OPENING OF FAIR

Fireworks Which Will Be A Feature Every Night Was The Best Ever Witnessed In Clearfield

TWO AIR FLIGHTS TOMORROW

The Second Annual Clearfield County Fair threw open its gates to a large crowd last evening at 7:30 immediately after the Fair had been officially declared open and the Italian Band of Clearfield had led a large crowd to the grounds. The dazzling sight which met the eyes of the visitors was a surprise to all of them. The Main Exhibition Hall, while still lacking some finishing touches, was a concrete example of the fact that the Fair association means business and intends as the years roll around to make the Clearfield Driving park a great place.

Nearly all the exhibits were in place and beautifully arranged. The right hand side of the hall as you enter is entirely given over to fancy work, Red Cross work, handwork of women and everything dear to the hearts of the ladies while the left hand side is of general interest to men and ladies alike. On entering you are confronted with the information and News bureau and the historical and Relic exhibit which are being run jointly under The Progress management with three attendants in charge. Three of the most interesting things to be seen here are as follows: A Boston newspaper printed in March 1770, An Indian corn grinding mill, the property of George M. Bilger and a wonderful collection of minerals. Hundreds of other articles of equal interest. Arranged on the same side as State Forestry exhibits one from the state Flymologist and others too numerous to mention.

Two bands were in attendance the Italian band and the Boys Band of Clearfield and the music both rendered was enjoyed very much. The address by A. G. Neary of Philadelphia, in the main hall was heartily applauded by a large audience while every eye was later focused on the wonderful display of fireworks which will be a feature every evening this week always with a changing program. See tonight's and tomorrow's program on the back page of this issue.

WE'RE GOING UP IN THE AIR TOMORROW

The Progress is going to get out at noon tomorrow or bust a gallus. We want to go to the fair because a representative of this paper is going to accompany Prof. Williams in his trip into the clouds during the afternoon. We hate to take the chance now that men are so scarce in Clearfield, but must go purely in the interest of science.

THE PUBLICIST WAS HERE

Charles J. Bangert, the DuBois publicity man, who is engaged these days in throwing word poses at old John Barleycorn as that erstwhile arrogant old "aws" goes slowly down for the count before the battering ram blows of an outraged public sentiment, was in town today assisting in the send off to the soldiers.

VISITING NEWSPAPER MEN

W. B. Ross, L. F. Mohny and Arthur B. Litz, deserted the DuBois Courier office long enough today to whirl across the mountain and participate in the send-off to the soldier boys today. They patriotically lined up for the march to the station.

WILL DISCUSS FOOD SITUATION

Geneva, Sept. 19.—American minister Stovall has been summoned to Washington at President Wilson's request to discuss the Swiss food situation according to word received here today. Stovall has already left Switzerland.

Local Draft Deserter Found In Pittsburg

Will be Returned to Clearfield Tonight Other Not Found.

Lewis Frank Boron, of Winburne, and Val Pavilek of Curwensville, are both listed as deserters following their failure to appear when called for service. They both are of Slavish descent.

Boron deliberately deserted, his being a real case of cold feet. He beat it away from Winburne against the counsel of his father and friends. He was rounded up at Pittsburgh and under arrest is on his way back to Clearfield where he will be landed in Fort McCloskey tonight.

We are not posted as to what the penalty will be in his case but in any event he will be kept in jail until October 3rd when the next contingent will be sent out. He may then be given another opportunity to go to Camp Lee, and after he gets there they will very quickly make up his mind for him.

In the case of Pavilek not so much is known. He disappeared from Curwensville some time ago and is thought to have gone to Pittsburgh and the police there are making a search for him.

Pope Will Not Renew His Peace Proposals

Believes War Will Last for at Least Two More Years

(By United Press)

Washington, Sept. 19.—Pope Benedict has made his last peace offer according to official cables received here today. The Holy See believes the war must go on for two or three more years longer—until the force of America's vast power is felt and when either a victory is achieved or a hopeless deadlock is reached. The United Press learned from the highest authority that the Vatican believes that no peace negotiations are possible now. It believes that peace is only possible when Germany is rid of its present ruler.

Germany, according to those intimate with the international affairs is expected to make a peace move this winter. Diplomats here believe that Germany will make a peace move to end the war before 1918.

REPORT OF SUB SUNK

London, Sept. 19.—An American armed steamer probably sunk a German submarine in spirited fighting southeast of the Shetland Islands according to a Central News dispatch today. The American vessel encountered a submarine and fired two shots smashing the periscope of the U-boat. At this juncture another submarine appeared and fired three shots at the American steamer but missed. A British destroyer hearing the shots and receiving wireless calls for help went to the rescue and arrived in time to sink the submarine.

STATE AGRICULTURAL NOTES

An unusually large acreage in broom corn has been planted this season and many farmers and individuals will endeavor to cut the cost of their brooms.

One of the largest chestnut crops in years is reported from various sections of the state.

The honey crop is decidedly below the average and beekeepers fear that there will be hardly more than enough to carry the bees through the winter without much extra feeding.

The State Livestock Sanitary board is engaged in making sanitary surveys of milk supplies in several boroughs in the northwestern part of the state.

Fines of $250 and costs were imposed against Uniontown meat dealers charged with having in their possession and selling large quantities of unwholesome meats.

The United States government will assist the Pennsylvania department of agriculture in preventing the sale and shipment of fake canning compounds, egg substitutes and other articles banned by the pure food laws of the state.

Don't buy any nursery stock unless the agent representing the nursery shows a Pennsylvania license issued by the department of agriculture at Harrisburg.

The 1916 peach crop exceeded the 1915 crop by about 400,000 bushels.

FOREST EXHIBIT AT COUNTY IS WONDERFUL

A Good Hour Of Entertainment Can Be Had By Anyone Interested In Woodcraft And Reforestation

SHOWS WANTON DESTRUCTION

One of the most intensely interesting exhibits at the Clearfield County Fair and the one which everyone ought to visit is that of the Pennsylvania State Forestry department in charge of Messrs. McNaughton and McNaughton. Representatives of the Forestry department are in charge at all times ready and willing to answer all questions.

The exhibit contains a large number of wood specimens taken from trees which are native of Pennsylvania, many of them taken from trees on the Pennsylvania State Forest. Each specimen contains a printed card bearing the botanical name of the tree. A large case containing many interesting photographs taken in or near state forests is also conveniently at hand, the cases being numbered from 1 to 5, the pictures being arranged in series, showing first the virgin stands of huge pines, hemlocks and hardwoods, the forests which made Pennsylvania at one time the first timber producing state of the union. Then follows scenes showing the inroads and ravages made by the lumbermen, and after that the forest fire with its destruction and desolation. This feature should be most interesting to the younger generation who know of such timber lands by hearsay.

The exhibit tells the whole story from the virgin forest through to the most total destruction of our timber supply, or until the department of forestry was finally created and J. T. Rothrock, that faithful pioneer in the work was chosen as commissioner and started in to reforest the denuded areas. During the last four years $195,000 has been appropriated to carry on the work of protection and reforestation and it is really surprising the amount of good accomplished by this meagre and inadequate sum. Today the state owns 1,012,098 acres of forest land. The leaf mounts are decidedly interesting, while the tools used by the state forester are also on display. The seeds of Pennsylvania native trees are also shown in glass jars ranged along the wall of the booth. From seeds like those shown the department is raising and planting this year 6,000,000 trees.

Illuminated lantern slides, showing many scenes throughout the forests attract a great deal of attention and are both interesting and instructive carrying as they do the department's ever present lesson against carelessness and fires.

Large maps of Pennsylvania and the state forests are also present, together with a sketch showing the relation of the damage done by forest fires to the amount appropriated for extinction and prevention of fires.

The work of the tree nursery is shown by specimens taken from Mr. Dague's operation on the mountains near the State house, north of town. There is shown the sturdy pine in process of growth from the seedling through the different stages of development each year up to four or five thousand seedling trees will be given away during the week to those desiring same for planting.

Everybody who visits the fair should make it a point to look at the forestry exhibit over, you will be repaid for your trouble.

SLACKER AMERICANS

This is the one day of all days when Americans are slackers. The casting of a ballot is not only a privilege alone but a duty as well. The government of this United States is in the hands of the people. We often hear reformers say that we are ruled by the minority and oppressed by a few. True, in a sense, but you and I and every other individual voter are ourselves to blame for this state of affairs where it really does exist. With sufficient there is absolutely no way for the minority to rule unless the majority wills it so.

It is not surprising that schemers and evil doers enter politics when it is an assured fact that not more than 10 per cent of the electorate exercise their right to vote. Present conditions offer a fertile field for the political demagogue which he is quick to take advantage of. Men of crooked tendencies always work on unsuspecting people and apparently there is no one so unsuspecting as the American voter. Ofttimes he never thinks over who he will vote for until he enters the booth at the polls and those who have had experience on election boards will testify to the fact that many men vote in much the same manner as they would draw a chance ticket or their neighbor's wife's fancy crazy quilt. It is common to find tickets marked with only one cross and that on some insignificant office. Another common practice is to vote for the first name on each office. Then there are the spoiled ballots. Many do not understand the marking of a ballot.

Is there not some way to correct these defects? As far as the indifference goes, that can be corrected only by a higher citizenship, a greater interest in ourselves and our government but would it not be wise to make election a part of the public school curriculum? It is being done by some school officials and we believe it would be a good plan to extend it to every school in the country. Young Americans should know how to use the ballot when it is put into their hands to shape our national destiny.

DUMDUMS

With the right kind of weather tomorrow Clearfield will not be able to take care of her visitors.

Every man leaving today knows that old Clearfield County will back him to the last ditch.

If the Goldline man was here today he could sell about a hundred bottles to about 'steen candidates tonight.

A County Fair without horse racing is like a sandwich without the ham to a great many people. Perhaps in another year the ham may be cheaper.

When we were kids we lived in a sleepy age. Never did we have a County Fair, an Election Day and one hundred soldiers leaving town all on the same day.

There is another issue of Liberty Bonds coming soon. There is where you can back up the soldiers who go today. You buy the bonds. Uncle Sam uses the money to feed and clothe his men.

Building of Sixteen Big Cities
Put Up To One Man; He Did It

By George Martin

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Sept. 19.—Suppose Uncle Sam stepped up to you on the street today and said:

"Look here, son: I want you to build sixteen cities. Put them in various parts of the country. Plan each one for a population of 40,000 men. Have heating, lighting, water, ventilation and sewerage systems perfect in all of them. Finish them in three months. That's your job, now go to it."

Would you know where to begin? Would it excite you at all to realize that every mistake you made meant perhaps fatal delay in the training of your country's armies for the war?

That proposition was put up to one man by Uncle Sam. He and his colleagues shouldered the burden and did the job.

The man was Major W. A. Starrett, before the war an architect, now Chairman on Emergency Construction and Contracts of the Council of National Defense.

No such task had ever been undertaken on a nation-wide scale in that space of time.

"When this thing was first contemplated," Major Starrett told the United Press today, "the government provided a couple of army officers and stenographers to do the job."

Word had gone out that the work was going on and every contractor in the country was here. As a result, all those men did was to stand in front of the desk and shake hands all day.

"We told the Munitions Board these people would have to be taken out and that the contentment men would have to be let alone."

"Accordingly, the next morning the men were brought to the Munsey Building, with their records. We immediately saw the need for the finest men we could get, so we reached into the big engineering organizations all over the country by wire and telephone."

"We asked them to send big men. We got big men. I could name you a list of twenty-five men we got who were worth $15,000 to $25,000 a year. We said to these concerns: 'You will have to give these people up, we face an emergency. They patriotically gave them up.'"

"Then and there, over about two days and nights solid conference work with all these people we built a great organization under Colonel Little of the War Department."

"Inside of four days we had the organization in skeleton. Everything was worked out with the object of speed and economy."

"That machine constitutes about 250 people occupying a whole building and working anywhere from 12 to 18 hours a day."

"We looked around to see what the Government had in the way of a register of contractors. It did not have anything for us.

"We asked the American Institute of Architects, the chief engineers of all the railroads and big industrial establishments, what reliable people they were dealing with. In ten days we had 1,800 replies, giving us a list of about 1000 contracting firms."

"We put the list in charge of Mr. Gibbon of the Chicago Fidelity and Guaranty Co. He determined that contracts throughout the country were doing $5,000,000 a year business. There were about 100. These we separated and cross-referenced them geographically. This gave us sixty or seventy concerns based on their proximity to the sixteen military divisions of the country."

"We considered our preferred contractors by these geographical groups."

"We got what the architects and engineers said about each man, and what each man said about himself and what others said about him. Thus when we came to the selection we had the available, competent firms and their respective records before us."

"The applicants really selected themselves."

"Secretary Baker sent us a communication saying all things being equal to pick the contractors from the locality in which the camp was to be located. That was common sense. We were in position to do what he suggested."

"You feel then," it was asked "that everything humanly possible was done to safeguard the interest of both the government and the public in the selection of these contractors?"

"Yes I do," said Major Starrett. It is just like any other emergency work. You have to know as many facts as you can and be as just as you can, but you have to move and do something."

BANKERS TO HEAR PROMINENT MEN

White Sulphur Spring, Va., Sept. 19.—Many financiers and business men of prominence are arriving at this resort to attend the annual meeting of the West Virginia Bankers Association, the sessions of which will begin tomorrow and continue over Friday. The meeting this year will be notable for the number of prominent speakers on the program. Among these who have accepted invitations to address the gathering are Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo, Governor John J. Cornwell and Herbert Quick, of the Federal Farm Loan Board.

HORSE SHOW AT WHITE PLAINS

White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 19.—Because of the prominence of many of the exhibitors and the large field of show and race horses entered, more than usual interest has been aroused in the 24th annual Westchester County Horse Show, which opened here today. The judging of exhibits and award of prizes began this afternoon and will be continued until the close of the exhibition on Saturday.

SEES BIBLE SCHOOLS WANE

Expert Blames the Week-End Automobile Outings

Pittsburgh, Sept. 18.—Bible schools in the Allegheny County Sabbath school association, when W. G. Lander, of Philadelphia, general secretary of the state association, declared that strenuous efforts must be made to offset this decrease. He declared that week-end automobile trips are becoming too much the fashion.

Two years ago there was a wave of revivals, which brought an increase in 140,000 in church enrollment," he said. "Now the reaction has set in; these people are falling away from the church and Sabbath schools."

READY FOR RESERVE MILITIA

Governor Has Adjutant General Prepare to Organize it

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—Governor Brumbaugh announced today at conclusion of a conference with Colonel F. A. Beary, acting adjutant general, that in a short time a statement would be issued regarding the formation of the Pennsylvania reserve militia.

"I have gone over the whole matter with Colonel Beary, who has been handling the preliminary details, and statement regarding location and other matters in connection with the various units will be issued before long," said the governor.

"Under the act there will be three regiments of reserve militia and one squadron of cavalry. The preference will be given to localities where the state owns armories. Steps to provide equipment are now under way."

WANT WHEAT PUT HIGHER

Producers Declare Price Does Not Yield Fair Profit

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—With the bakers contending the price of wheat is too high to permit the sale of standard-size loaves at a lower price, some wheat producers are vigorously declaring that the average price of $2.20 per bushel fixed in the recent executive order is too low to give the producer a fair profit.

Meanwhile G. E. Call, professor of agronomy in the state college of agriculture of Kansas, recognized as one of the best experts on wheat in the entire country, estimates that, on the average, the American farmer who grows wheat is receiving $1.21 per net bushel with the market price fixed at $2. With the price fixed at $2.20 per bushel, the average net profit on this basis would be $1.41 per bushel.

NOW MAKING NEW PRIMER

Frankford Arsenal Heads Say Danger Has Been Minimized

Washington, D. C., Sept. 18.—Frankford Arsenal was just preparing to manufacture cartridges according to a new formula, which eliminates serious defects in shells, when the explosion destroying a portion of the plant occurred early this month. Major Alton S. Cushman, chemist at the arsenal, informed the Military Affairs committee today. He said this was the result of recommendations to the war department, following the reports of misfires of shells. Major Cushman went to the Frankford Arsenal in June, soon after reports of defects were received. He declared prospects for accurate shells in the future are good because of an order completely changing the formula.

$1,000 FOR FIRST GERMAN CAPTURED

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 18.—The first drafted soldier from Weatherly who captures a German soldier, will receive a reward of $1,000 in cash from State Senator Elmer Warner, of Carbon county. Senator Warner, who lives at Weatherly, made this announcement today before the departure of the boys for Camp Meade tomorrow.

BIGGEST WAR BILL IN HISTORY

Washington, Sept. 18.—Without a dissenting vote the house passed the $7,000,000,000 war appropriation bill today, the largest measure of its kind in history.

The bill carries provision for the pay and subsistence of 1,000,000 men under arms until June 30, 1918, and provides enormous sums for heavy and light artillery, as well as many hundreds of millions for the rapid increase of the destroyer fleet.

Because of war's heavy draft on the medical profession and on male medical students for the army, Harvard University this year may open the doors of its medical school to women for the first time in its history.

Local Horse Wins Best Race At Carrolltown Exhibition

"Peter the Great," W. G. Kelley's, made him an antagonist to be both handsome young bay trotting horse, feared and respected by all who won the 2:30 trot at the Carrolltown fair Thursday of last week. The horse was driven to victory by his owner.

W. G. Kelley is one of the best known and most expert horsemen in this section of the state. He has been in the game and highly successful at it so long that the mind of man hereabouts runneth not to the contrary.

Away back in our "saddled days," about the time the Clearfield Driving Park was breaking into history and Major D. W. Eitzweiler was the energetic Secretary of the Association, W. G. Kelley as old then as he is now, was on hand at every fair or race meet with what the other fellow termed a "skate" or two, and always appeared to land in the money when the heat was ended. He was then as now, with the keen, unerring eye of the real horseman of the old school, he knew his horse and always had "the goods." His judgement as to a horse was equalled by his skill and expertness as a driver, which combined with his absolute fearlessness when enthroned on his seat in the sulky and scoring up for the starter's word, when the race ends.

Mr. Kelley deserves to rank with that other and more widely advertised veteran of the reins, old "Pop" Geers, who like Kelley is still driving winners on the big rings. Both have arrived at the time of life where the four score milestone on life's home stretch is dangerously near, but advancing years makes no difference, they are still showing the way to the younger fellows and will continue to do so until the summons for the finale.

Then with the concluding straightaway before them and old Peter at the finish ready to pick the winner, it is guess that Clearfield's venerable horseman will be "in the money" when the race ends.

Bobby Roth of the Cleveland Indians is going right after the major leagues' base stealing honors with the speed lever wide open.

Cruits, of the Cardinals, and Kauff, the Giants' gardener, have slowed up in the race for the National league batting championship.

It begins to look as if the early prediction that the Mackmen wouldn't finish in the cellar has turned out to be a fliv.

The Washington Senators boast of having put a crimp in the Red Sox pennant hopes, and declare they will do the same to the White Sox. But will they?

Recent averages show that of the eight .300 hitters in the National league three are members of the Cardinals—Hornesby, Cruise and J. Smith.

The Western teams are the big works in the American league this season. Grabbing three of the four positions in the first division indicates that the Westerners have the goods.

"Rob" Russell of the White Sox and "Slim" Sallee of the Giants, the leading pitchers of irrespective leagues, are being picked by the wise ones to face each other in one of the world's series thrillers.

There is quite an array of promising bush talent to be disposed of at the big league draft meeting in Cincinnati this week, notwithstanding that the most of the minor leagues have had a tough year.

Fred Mitchell's Cubs have their eye on the Reds and will battle on to the finish to land Chicago among the first four National league teams.

"Big Ed" Walsh keeps plugging away in an endeavor to "make" the "Graves" pitching staff. It's a tough game trying to come back with an outfit very much frayed at the edges.

Eddie Collins is the only member of the White Sox who has participated in a world's series. As a pastime with the Athletics, the star second sacker took part in four of the big doings.

Although Smith appears to be doing well in the Giants' infield, the McGraws will have to travel some to tap the world's series without the services of Herzog.

Injuries to Pat Moran's pastimers put the Phillies on the hummer. No fewer than six Quaker regulars have been on the hospital list at one time.

Pennant races in the American association, the Southern league and the International League were the real thing in championship battles this year. All three circuits staged pennant scrambles that had the majors faded in the way of tight finishes.

JUMP FROM BED IN MORNING AND DRINK HOT WATER

Open sluices of system each morning and wash away the poisonous, stagnant matter, says authority.

A glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, drank each morning before breakfast, keeps us looking and feeling fit.

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins: thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble, rheumatism; others who have sallow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store, which will cost but little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal sanitation.

Bigger Primary Vote Out in State Than Was Expected: No Interest

Harrisburg, Sept. 19.—Unofficial reports today from various sections of the state indicate a quite heavy primary vote in almost all districts. Even in counties where a judicial candidate is unopposed, a fairly good vote is being polled as a result of efforts of friends of such candidates to insure a "fifty-one per cent. nomination."

Pittsburgh, with a tremendous registration, "probably is polling the heaviest proportionate vote of any district in the state."

In all likelihood, seven districts will still present judgeships of common pleas courts today, making the November election a mere formality; one district an additional law judgeship; one a president judgeship of the orphans' court, and two counties balloting for associate judges in the same way.

The newly-created third class city of Bethlehem is nominating its first set of candidates for municipal offices today.

Candidates for president judge of common pleas who have no opposition on today's ballot are Robert McCormick, Cameron-Clinton-Elk district; William Butler, Chester; Aaron S. Swartz, Montgomery and John Add Mellvaine, Washington. All but McCormick will succeed Harry Alvan Hall. S. J. M. McCarrell, additional law judge of Dauphin county, is without opposition. So is associate Judge Harry R. Hyde, Elk.

These candidates are not necessarily certain of no opposition in November until today's ballots are counted. To become the sole nominee a non-partisan candidate first must have more than half the votes cast for that office; this easy where there are not more than two candidates. Second he must have more than half of the total number of votes cast for any single office in the entire district.

An unopposed candidate for judge might, altho it is not likely, poll less than half the votes cast for all candidates for district attorney; if this were the case and some men were nominated for judge merely by one voter writing his name on the ballot both would be candidates in November. The primaries, however, probably will settle each case where there are not more than two candidates—and perhaps somewhere there are more than two.

Districts where two men seek one nomination for president judge of common pleas are: Charles C. Evans, incumbent, and John G. Harman, Columbia-Montour; James R. Cray and John Q. Van Swearingen, incumbent, Fayette; F. Amedee Bregy, incumbent, and Walter M. Chew, Philadelphia No. 1. In Fayette county Horatio S. Dumbauld and James Clark Work, incumbent, are both after the orphans' court president judgeship. Two counties have two-man contests for one associate judgeship: Forest, with Lyman Cook and George Zuen-del, incumbent, and Pike, with G. E. Swartwood, incumbent and John A. Eckweiler.

Schuylkill county has one of the hottest judicial fights in the state. Four men are after two law judgeships. This will make it necessary to strike averages to find if any one or two have a "fifty-one per cent. nomination." The candidates are President Judge H. O. Bechtel, Judge Charles E. Berger, appointed by the governor; ex-assemblyman John Robert Jones and James J. Bell.

Polls close thruout the state at 7 o'clock tonight.

A course in salesmanship for girls is to be introduced in the Chicago high schools this Fall.

Miss Charlotte Vincent has been appointed assistant bacteriologist of the health department of the city of Baltimore.
